

KATE SUNDQUIST

Born in Geneva, Switzerland and raised in Missoula, Montana, Kate has spent the last twenty years in Washington State. She has a Master of Arts Degree in Interior Design and raises her three kids in Yakima, Washington.

Their home is forty minutes from White Pass, in the Tieton area. This is where their family developed a passion for skiing and a love of the mountains. Eli 14, Claire 12 and Neve 6 all ski race for White Pass Ski Club. This sport has given so much to Kate's family and has benefited her kids in countless ways.

Her son Eli, states ski racing has brought a profound sense of accomplishment, many friendships, a sense of independence and opportunity to visit a variety of places. He loves the process of getting better. Their love of the sport is why Kate is honored to accept a position on the Pacific Northwest Ski Education Foundation.
